WE NOMINATE

William Shepherd Dix, this country's Chairman of the National Commission for UNESCO, who twice in the past ten days has merited the headlines that have tragically been awarded to political spokesmen for members of the United Nations gathered together for solemn conclave in New York City. While the raucous voiced, but increasingly inarticulate, representatives of the Soviet bloc and the "neutral nations" have been making the welkin ring, the 50-year old Dix and his associates have been projecting plans for the Eleventh Session of the General Conference of UNESCO to be held in Paris starting November 14.

This past week a somewhat obscure Saudi Arabian visitor to Princeton, the publisher of a weekly newspaper and of paper-back volumes in modern Arabic, laid the facts on the line. He told scholars over luncheon: "The statesmen, or politicians, have let us down; our last hopes are the scholars and teachers who are willing to combine their efforts through UNESCO." It is largely for this reason that Dix's appointment as Vice-Chairman of the American delegation to Paris, back-stopping the Special Assistant to the Secretary of State, means so much to UNESCO and to its supporters in the United States.

During the past ten days newspaper dispatches have failed to touch upon Dix's role in organizing the recent "briefing session" for the American members of UNESCO and upon his leadership in scheduling next fall's 8th National UNESCO Conference which will focus attention upon "Africa South of Sahara." He has also been among the activators in insisting that next month's gathering of the General Conference, UNESCO's governing body, must give first priorities to the urgent needs for expanded staffs, and larger educational facilities, in Asia, the Near East and Africa.

One of this country's deeply respected library statesmen and in his eighth year as Princeton University's librarian, the Virginia-born Dix has helped the United States attain a position of world leadership in library affairs. He belongs to the group of little-publicized educators who have been working effectively with their counterparts in any number of nations, adapting the philosophy and techniques of American librarianship to individual national needs. It is his belief that a well-run library "is an integral part of a way of life, or way of education, reflecting and also implementing the aspirations of those it serves."

As Chairman of the American Library Association's Committee on Intellectual Freedom, Dix performed yeoman's service in the early 1950's and helped sponsor one of the meaningful documents of the past decade, "The Freedom to Read," issued in 1953, some weeks before President Eisenhower gave his famous "book-burning address" at Dartmouth College. This statement of principles emphasizes: "Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain . . . Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it less able to deal with stress."

For contributing to the on-going development of UNESCO, one of the world's hopes in the building of a lasting peace; for understanding that learning and knowledge are among our "greatest instruments for freedom;" for distinguished, unsung achievement; he is Town Topics' nominee for

SUDDENLY IT'S FALL

Schools Face Problems. Princeton parents, accustomed to sightings with relief on the children as off to school, are shocked to discover this week that the autumn of 1960 brings to Princeton schools not peace, but problems.

• First: the Township schools have suddenly found themselves with more students than they expected. Like many little feet following some Pied Piper, the children poured out of street, lane, avenue and drive the first day of school to swell the population almost to bursting, and to confront the Township School Board with the necessity of an immediate decision on where to put them — now, and ten years from now.

• Second: the Division of Field Studies and Research at Rutgers released to both school boards its report on possible consolidations of Borough and Township school districts. The report is now under study.

The rate of population increase was not obvious until school opened, despite surveys made in April. To cite just two examples:
when school opened on September 12, there were 35 more kindergartners and more eighth and ninth graders than anyone had expected.

On September 15, school board members tentatively accepted the preliminary plans of Palmer and Bowers for the Community Gardens school, but it was apparent even then, that this school was

SPACE STUDENT: Dr. William Purcell, Township School Superintendent, reports a need for prompt solution of building problems created by runaway school population.

filled to the brim even before it was off the drawing board.

Dr. William Purcell, superintendent of schools, therefore presented to the Board last Thursday four alternative building programs based on information already at hand. The Board had been asked to consider eight with building programs to follow but voted to postpone action until more data could be assembled.

Specifically, the Board directed Dr. Purcell to assemble the following data for its October 6 meeting: 1) a population prediction by neighborhoods; 2) a determination from the State Department of Education on the feasibility of one or more preferred alternatives; 3) an outline of building needs beyond 1963 — perhaps as far ahead as 1970; and 4) a rough comparison between the cost of building additions on Valley Road School and increasing the planned size of Community Gardens School.

More Construction Planned.
The first of the two preferred alternatives involves adopting a K-8 organization in the elementary schools and a 6, 7, 8 organization in the Valley Road. All the Township's sixth grades would be moved to Valley Road School.
This plan requires a four-room addition to Valley Road. This school would immediately be an addition to Littlebrook School in 1966.
This is the alternative whose legislative muscle is to be used.

The second of the two preferred alternatives involves adopting a K-8 organization in Johnson Park, Littlebrook and Riverside Schools and adding a second story with a wing to the new Community Gardens School to which all the Township's sixth grades would be consolidated. This plan also requires an addition to Littlebrook School in 1966.

The rejected alternatives would have put all grades, K through six, in individual schools. The Board rejected these proposals because of its desire to have a K-8 system. Board members and school officials feel that it is better to have all the sixth graders in one school where they can be taught more advanced subjects by experienced teachers.

The pattern of growth in the Township's school population has shifted with the years, according to John J. McKenna, director of surveys. New houses are being built in a price range which young married couples cannot afford; therefore, many new children in Township schools are the junior high, high school age children of older parents. Young couples with kindergarten-age children no longer move out of the University area when the father completes his graduate studies. Instead, the project has become the home of University employees who stay, raise the children they have and probably have more.

Consolidation: To this complex of statistical population shifts and the price of little feet the Rugers Division of Field Studies and Research has added its impartial study of the possibility of consolidating the Township and School districts might consolidate.
"Consolidation is favored by the fact that Princeton Borough and Princeton Township conform so what sociologists call a "natural cultural area" in the report states.

With consolidation there would be a single board of education and administration which could develop and execute policies for the whole program, thereby ending the present system of dual programming. The report points out, for example, that the teaching of science and mathematics may present problems in the future that could not easily be solved by one district, but easily solved by another district.

Consolidation would also give every resident of Borough and Township an equal voice in the entire educational program, kindergarten through 12th grade, plus equal rights in electing school commissioners, participating in budget decisions and so on. (At present, although Township children attend the Borough's high school, Township voters have no voice in electing the board that runs the high school.)

Finally, the report suggests that consolidation would create a more heterogeneous and therefore more representative system, and would permit the construction of schools where they were needed, without regard to municipal boundaries.

"A Borough and Township school district consolidation could operate for from $20,000 to $30,500 less than the two separate districts," the report says. "These savings occur almost entirely in the broad category of administration, with the reduction in boards of education, board secretaries, treasurer, attorneys, etc., from two to one and with a small reduction in numbers of school administrators and secretaries."

The report noted that in order to effect a smooth and easy operation between the two systems. (In the fields of math and science curriculum mentioned above, for example.) However, the report points out that because this planning is voluntary, "there is not quite the degree, or the certainty of unified approach inherent in a unified administration."

Finances. Although there would be a saving of at least $20,000 a year through consolidation, it would cost $30,000 to $30,500 a year in school building aid received from the state, according to the report, because the state does not give aid to consolidated districts.

There would also be a shift in the tax balance which could drop the Township by 10 to 15 points, and raise the Borough school tax rate by 85 to 83 points. The study points out, however, that although the Borough may not be able to afford to build Township schools, the Township would pay a substantial portion of the cost of replacing the Borough's two elementary schools when the time comes.

The 48-page report is now in the hands of both mayors, the Planning Boards, Township Committee, Borough Council and the Parent - Teacher organizations. There are also copies in the public library.

CANTEEN DISCUSSED

By Sponsoring Committee. The sponsoring organizations of the Princeton Teen Canteen met this week to discuss Canteen activity in light of the Board of Education's recent criticism. Present at the meeting were representatives of the PTA, the YMCA, the YWCA, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the teenage governing body. Sergeant Frank McGuire, Borough Juvenile Officer, was also present.

The group felt there had been few problems, considering that the Canteen serves 200 to 400 teens ages each week throughout the year, and that would determine the police and Board of Education to advise the Committee immediately of any future problems. Neither George Dixon, the past president of the Canteen nor any committee member had been informed of infractions of the Canteen rules during the year. (For other opinions on the Board of Education's decision on the Canteen, see Mailbox, page 13.)

Changes Planned. The committee agreed to a re-enrollment plan of all Canteen members. New membership cards will be issued in different colors on a yearly basis, so that members cannot continue in the Canteen after they have reached the maximum age. Some problems had occurred with older teenagers participating in Canteen activities on invalid membership cards, the Committee felt.

Stringent enforcement of dress rules was decided upon, rather than a change in the rules, with the teenage governing body to set the pattern of proper dress and behavior. These rules would be applied to all activities, including the Canteen, which require a parent's signature. No guests will be admitted to the Canteens for the next few weeks until re-enrollment is completed, and guests will not be allowed to enter them from an area outside the sending districts.

Another suggestion made at the meeting was to list procedures for police officers which would clearly define their specific duties. The responsibility of parents was discussed at length, with the constant need for parent chaperones mentioned by the Chaperone Committee. This committee noted some reluctance on the part of parents to help.

It was felt that parents should be invited to all activities at the Canteen during the given evening. Some teenagers, it was reported, have used the Canteen as an excuse to their parents and had not stayed there the full time. Canteen rules require those leaving a dance may not be admitted.

The Committee felt a program to educate parents as to the needs and requirements of the Canteen should be instituted, and meetings will be planned for this purpose. In re-applying to the Board of Education for the use of the Nassau Street School, the Committee will send a letter, outlining the steps it will take to insure enforcement of Canteen rules.

A letter of thanks from the Committee Secretary and the Town Council Secretary will be sent to Mayor Male for the use of Borough Hall where the Committee met.

Those present at the meeting were: John Ehrman, Chairman of the Adult Board and member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; George Dixon, Canteen director; Thomas Turner, George Russo and Linda Salkin, representing the student board; Mrs. Sarah Strayer, Mrs. Radina Winters, Mrs. Clark Wendorff, Mrs. Esther Abramson, Mrs. Jean Russek of the PTA; Mrs. Marian Bain, Mrs. Georgine Hall and Mrs. Virginia Watson of the YWCA; Walter Song and Edward Morgan of the YMCA; Walter Morgan of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and Sergeant McGuire.

WHO SHALL BE ASSESSED? Township Committee Ponders. "My client has no objection to the assessment," said H.R. Zink, lawyer representing Donald S. Bond, 456 Snowden Lane, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a hasty note in a memo which had already its share of discord, that incredulous Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman asked Mr. Zink to repeat.

Township Committee heard on Monday night from other residents of the Van Dyke area who are not quite so content as Mr. Bond with the allocation of the $32,000 Van Dyke Road paving assessment. Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Humphreys of Van Dyke Road protested that the newly-paved road "didn't go anywhere". Mayor Fairman assured them that it would eventually meet where it is extended to Randall Road.

Mr. Humphreys also asserted that the road had been built solely for Trinity Church so that it could have access to the church's cemetery Chapel. Mr. Fairman said this was not entirely true and pointed out that Trinity had made a financial contribution.

Trinity, in its turn, submitted a letter pointing out that each time the assessments were adjusted to favor private property protest if its share increases again.

Bayard Stockton 3d, assessed some $4,000, said that Van Dyke had "done" go anywhere, and furthermore, that it was now so graded that he couldn't get from one piece of his property to another without building a bridge or getting permission from Trinity to go on its property.

After some figuring, Committee-men Stanley C. Smoyer said that actually, the new alignment of the road was in his favor. Mr. Stockton, if he ever wanted to subdivide, because any road he built would be right on the Trinity property line, which would give potential buyers a "park" to look at instead of other houses.

Why Fay? Mr. Smoyer, addressing himself to all the protesters and the neighbors, accounted that a property-owner is benefited by having a public street in front of his house, because he gets snow removal, repairs, and other services free. Mr. Hampshire said that on the contrary, he had trouble selling his property because the newly-paved road detracted from the country atmosphere of his place.

The two petitions were approved by Township Committee unanimously, but additional problems were just around the corner—a paved corner.

The Riverdale Drive East paving agreement proved to be so complex that it was taken under advisement. One problem seemed to be solved when a statement which Walter G. Olson, Riverdale Drive East and Kingston Road, had been made in him by the Planning Board and by Township Attorney Gordon Griffin to the effect that the Foster Development Company and developer Carl Geiger would share the entire cost of paving the road.

In further business, Mr. Geiger accepted with thanks the offer by Carl Geiger of two and one-half acres of land on Bertram Drive in Shady Brook to be used for recreation purposes.

Committee-men, including Lawrence Bayard, Francisco Jaycox who expressed his organization's hope that the municipality will appoint a committee to study the dog situation in the Township, hopefully to come to an agreement with the Board. He said that Township police had received 642 "dog and cat" calls in 1959.

News Of The THEATRES

"RIGHT YOU ARE" NEXT

"Lady" Now Showing, McCarter Theatre Series. The series is scheduled to open this Thursday night with a production of Christopher Fry's lyric comedy, "The Lady's Not For Burning." It will continue with performances Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and a matinee Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Next Thursday, Pirandello's "Right You Are" will be offered on the same schedule, and successive Thursdays will bring openings of "The Taming of the Shrew" by George M. Cohan, "One Sea-Gull" by Chekhov, "Doctor for a Dumb Wife," a Moliere-Anatole France synthesis, and "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde.

The plays are cast from a resident company of 24 professional players who have had long experience in working together in Broadway and off-Broadway classic revivals, Shakespeare Festivals and in various other drama groups. While the current week's play is in the final stages of rehearsal and performance, the following week's production will be entering its first rehearsals.

Later plays of the series are already in the planning stages. First rehearsals take place in New York in the headquarters of the Association of Princeton Artists, a parent company of the resident group, and final technical and dress rehearsals are held in McCarter.

MCCARTER OPENS

With New Season. So far at least, the unspoken question in the minds of Princeton's theatre-goers is: "What's new?" The resounding affirmative: McCarter Theatre's new venture in the performing arts has started splendidly. Two productions from the repertory of the Association of Producing Artists have been presented with vivacity and finesse. The season is well begun.

It seems at first like a piece of audacity to present as an opening play a work as well-known as Shaw's "Man and Superman," with its lengthy "Don Juan in Hell" section to extend the hour to the final curtain, and to remind audiences vividly of stars who have read these very lines.

Actually, it was a shrewd move. The Shaw and "Anatol," of the APA, repertory, and as such are part of the blood and bones of the company, "ice-breakers" to open a season and a new enterprise with a minimum of anguish and of effort.

Allen Fletcher has directed a "Man and Superman" which is articulate, fast, sprightly, knowing, and with a judiciously cut. Ellis Rabb, an actor so thin that when he turns his side to the footlights the audience won-

Baby's Not for Burning

A baby-sitting service and a restaurant series in nearby restaurants are among the new offerings for patrons of McCarter Theatre.

The baby-sitters, Princeton teenagers, will be taken to the theatre-goer's door at least an hour before curtain time, (or just about the time a husband says, "But I gave you a telephone number"). The baby-sitting charge is 75¢ an hour, and the service should be ordered at least 24 hours in advance by calling McCarter, WA 1-8700.

The restaurant reservation service is for those housewives who want to reserve a table at those Princeton restaurants where reservations are recommended. Telephone McCarter office, WA 1-8700, on the noon of the day of the performance. Telephone reservations are also accepted for all McCarter attractions, and tickets will be held until 8:15 for evening shows, and 2:15 for matinees.

ders if he's really there, played John Tanner and Don Juan with a fine mixture of cerebral force and physical comedy. When he said his lines too fast, an understanding audience appreciated that he had a great many of them to say.

Stan and Richard Easton as Octavius and Robinson, were the outstanding members of the cast, although the APA's no-star system pretty much guarantees that no one actor will ever dominate a play. Played as a love-sick poet, plucked the hand-wriggling, half-eyed part with smoothness and technical skill which make one recall with embarrassment the imitations that have been the lot of Octavius in the hands of less adept actors.

Dual Roles Filled. Rosemary Harris is to be Mrs. Rabb, seemed almost too arch and too coy as Ann Whitefield. The role requires these characteristics, of course, but it seemed for a time that Miss Harris had a bit too much of both. However, as Dona Ana in the "Don Juan" section, she had a chance to show that she can be more than a coquettish dame, and she carried off well the imperious Spanish aristocrat who hopes for a "Superman."

Paul Spader as Mendez the brigand chieftain and the Devil, Merritt is to be David as Rochester in "Jane Eyre." The Comedians fulfilled their dual roles well enough, but it seemed to this reviewer that the "Don Juan" section might well have been left out. It was undoubtedly a Cool Thing from the students who crowded McCarter on opening night to see the play in its entirety—except for those audience cut-ups "Don Juan" was in theatrical fashion on his own just now, and most of the audience has probably seen the section, plucked from context, too recently to want to sit it again.

actors, and just possibly a tribute to Shaw as well, that the length of the play was scarcely noticeable.

As a production, "Man and Superman" was mounted simply. William D. Roberts dispensed with a curtain, and designed a set based on those 20-inch wooden cubes that have four-inch slots for windows and doors. These transform these cubes into chairs or couches and other modular pieces served as mantels, brigadier's fireplace, and the train of the hero. The sets were ingenious, but rather like something built of Lincoln-logs, and the slow and exposed structural parts showed in the eye at first. The costumes in "Man and Superman" were properly played down in the interest of the play's antellectual content. Mozart's "Don Giovanni" came off body from a wretched sound reproducing system.

The APA company, whose actors are performing in McCarter, is a young company. Actors who portray any character beyond the young middle-ages are obliged to wear wigs (unless, most unfortunately, Mr. David as Ramsden) and the ladies Miss Harris and Eve Roberts as "Violet" and the "Duchess" have no difficulty convincing the audience that they are irresistible.

The actors are filled with zest as well as talent and are especially the dedicated group of people. The creative group, if I may hazard a guess, in Princeton, and it will be a treat to watch them as the season progresses.

"ANATOL" DELIGHTFUL.
Old Vienna Battered by the Association of Producing Artists proved to be a delightful evening with a character named Anatol and his loves. The play with music was laid in Vienna at the turn of the century, but the affection was light and smooth—not overly sweet.

As adapted by Tom Jones from Lilly Lessing's translation, the Arthur Schnitzler play glided gaily through five scenes of comedy in the life of the hero, "a boy philosopher" looking for life in love and vice-versa. Richard Easton played the part with verve and high humor and portrayed the many-sided character with ease.

William Larson, as Anatol's friend Max, acted as mediator and confessor for the love-born youth, and bridge the episodes with sung narrative, an occasionally useful device. At the piano, Conrad Suss, a consummate job in translating music from Offenbach into an unobtrusive background, which created the atmosphere of old Vienna very well.

Further credit is due him for his support of the often weak-sounding singing parts. The lack of talent in this respect was embarrassing at times, but the enthusiasm and enthusiasm of the entire cast more than offset the difficulty.

And now the ladies. The five loves of Anatol ran the full course of temperament and feminine wiles, and never failed to amuse and charm the audience. Eve Roberts as Corn played an hilarious scene under hypnosis, and her operatic mauthings were marvelous.

At the ballroom with the "sentimental" Anatol, Jutta Engel was almost unbearably cute, and she developed the "gay deceiver" motif with great wit and lively movement. Anatol's encounter with Gabrielle, a girl who was wistfully played by Rosemary Harris, showed another side of the man with an infinite gift for love. The creation and destruction of the illusion of love was beautifully handled.

Appropriately, Anatol next appeared in a bright room with a gauzy hangover on the morning of his wedding day. Lodged in his bedroom was Ilona, a former love to whom he succumbed. Jacqueline Brough played the jealous, petticoated singer to the hilt, and her tantrums were top-notch.

Anatol ended his session as a long, tall gallant, retaining a young lady's attentions because "love is only for the young," and the play closed with his life search for the Woman abandoned. The APA team excelled well by Schnitzler's commentary on life and love, although the lyrics suffered badly in translation. The dialogue was reasonably smooth.

Ellis Rabb, the director, equalled his success as Jack Tanner in "Men and Superman," by maintaining a lively, gay and smooth action. The period costumes were vivid, and enhanced the "old Vienna" atmosphere. A witty and unusual offering: "Anatol" should have another chance at Carter's stage.

HOLLOWAY A DELIGHT
"Holloway" is a rare, unique, grand old man of show business — and Stanley Holloway, whatever his age, must be counted among them — have the difficult task of keeping to the right side of the wispy line that divides the two, which is their stock in trade from the screen mentality which makes them somewhat embarrassing relics of an entertainment era perhaps better left in legend. Holloway, his feet planted firmly in the soft stuff English folk humor, trod hardly a slip before a delighted near-capacity audience at McCarter Theatre Monday night.

The occasion was the presentation of the first of his new show, "Laughs and Other Events." It was the first such "sneak preview" Princeton has been accorded in three years and —Continued on Page 8

IT'S NEW To Us

WHO DONE IT?

Peter Paul Probable, The Leopard's Head on Chambers Street likes to play cat-and-mouse with the unknowns. The last time he was unknown, and the latest one they found is an oil which they think is a study done by Rubens for his "St. Ambrose Bans the Earth" and "The Theodosius in the Cathedral."

The work was sold many years ago as a Zurburan, but the Schusters, who own he Leopard's Head, suspected this designation and sent it to St. Ambrose, the world's leading authority on Zurburan. "Ridiculous," he said, or whatever authorities on Zurburan say when confronted with a non-Z. He told the Schusters that he suspected the work might be a Rubens.

It doesn't seem to be a copy, because it has bold, free lines not usually found in the work of even the best copyists. X-rays show that it is definitely 17th century; in fact, the X-rays reveal that it is almost identical withing which may, when photographed by infra-red light, turn out to be a signature. (It may almost say "careful use no heat".)

In any case, it is detective work of the most exciting kind. The picture itself is worthy of the effort, with opulent blues and golds spiraling across St. Ambrose's robe in such dazzling colors that the gold almost seems metallic.

The picture has been given a rough cleaning. A very exciting buy.

Collectors whose modest wallets aren't quite up to Rubens, may choose from large collections of very small ceramic pieces. These superb little contemporary vases were made in Sweden after the fashion of art work in the 18th century, and they have the same quality that extends even to the glaze. Most of the vases are one to three inches tall, from $8. With each one you get a certificate with the number of the piece. The date of its origin and the signature of the maker. (No X-ray needed.)

From Queen Anne's day, The Leopard's Head offers a wide catalog in baked ware, 16 inches long by 12 inches deep by 12 inches wide. Its interior is pricked and painted wood with cavaliers and ladies looking about, and the side lids are made of camphor wood, sometimes scratched with faint writing. There are minute drawers, and secret compartments and a $135 price tag.

a sort of two-way stretch, into two sizes at both 8 and 10 Chambers.

We were drawn to this citadel of femininity by a collection of red undergarments, as eminently practical as anything we've seen in a long time. The garments are made by half-slip, slip, gowns in the long and short of it, silk red and ruffles. Scruff to match are tufted nylon banded in red satin. There are giant lace trimmings. Looks like lingerie inter-for trousseaus. Edith's suggests a sheer white tricot panty, edged with lace and trimmied with a band of roses of roses of the valley.

Hanging from the bouquet by a blue ribbon is that real "gold" wedding ring.

The culotte appears in lingerie as a pair of full short pajamas in white tricot trimmed with red rickrack. (White corduroy dustie matches). Again you find the tulip shape slip with a red and turquoise floral print, with a straight half slip to match (under culotes?) designed with loop fringes at the hem.

A double sleeveable consists of a long-sleeved gown with cuffs and peter pan collar, bed jacket and culotte pajamas, all trimmed with narrow satin bands, flat bows and ruffles. The color is Blue. Almost as popular at Edith's as red, appears again in the curving floral stripes of an ivory silk Host. King ensembles consisting of shirtwaist, pants and a matching robe which has a single continuous band around the neck and down both sides.

The robe of the season at Edith's is a splendid cream colored, marshmallow of acrilan pile, cut like a coachman's robe and held with two baroque brass buttons. It's $35, and designed to be worn as a morning coat as well as a night coat.

The best of the season is Warner's "European," a confection of lace and lace-like patterns, straps lined with white velvet. Even the back straps are white lace. It's wired like a grand piano and costs almost as much ($16.95), but talk about concert price!

JUST LIKE GRANDMA'S
Only New. Ladies who buy impulsively at auctions and then wonder why they got a nice sweet little patchwork quilt, is dirty, and too old to be washed, will welcome the chance to buy a new patchwork quilt, which has the look of the old, but with the added advantage of being washable.

No Tarnish

You can now buy Tiffany's tarnish-proof silver at LeVake-Heid's and when in your friends ask why your silver is not tarnished, you can just reply that a layer of secret material has been deposited evenly and mysteriously over every time of every fork.

We are especially excited about the tests we put the silver through to make sure it was really tarnish proof. Talk about brain-washing! We left a bright cigarette against it for 10 minutes, get this, girls—usually brushing away the ashes to keep off the heat right on the silver. (How mean can you get?)

After this, they left some knives for eight hours in ethyl alcohol (ethyl methyl) to test the effect. (Not to mention bed. We know some blades who can get pretty tarnished in eight hours.) Worst of all, they buried the silver for 72 hours in a vase containing decayed flower stems. Well!

"What did they do at work today, daddy?" "Well, I took this bouton spoon..."

was a slight but almost incredible new theatrical specialty our rounding McCarter.

Asked by an austere-looking two-piano team and a banjoist and ocarinist garbed as strolling players, Holloway projected the charm of a Gypsy Maurice Chevalier — and even acknowledged the similarity in an uncharacteristic and unusual outburst of the French boulevardier. Genuine wholesomeness and broad, sometimes almost Shakespearian humor were the order of the evening, whether Holloway was skipping rope, juggling, or singing "I Went to the Park to Pick Poppies With Poppy," or leading the audience in singing about the "Fish and Chip Express."

No "Fair Lady" Material. It's too bad Holloway failed to win permission from the "My Fair Lady" producers to include in his show the famous scene from the "Church on Time," which he made his own during more than three years in the cast of the hit musical. The "Fair Lady" missed showing him at his best, and the tunes were constantly called to mind during the evening.

Holloway's showmanship is so unlike that to which the modern theater-goer is accustomed, I'm sure the last one-man show at McCarter was presented by the hyper-hip Shelly Bergman; that it took a few minutes for rapport to be established between performer and audience. But by the time Holloway started the poppy-picking, the crowd was his, and he handled them with skill. Audience participation there was, but not so much that it not to be a bore or a cheap substitute for entertainment. Change of pace was deftly handled and the actor's facility of creating characters was given full play.

He crossed into sentimentality only once — in a shoddy little recitation with music entitled "Brown Boots." The tale of a man who had lost his boots because he had lent his good boots to "a man who had none." This was presented with wide-eyed sentimentality with the low-key lighting which is a cliché even in bad movies, and with none of the sharp edge which gave several of the performer's other tales real weight.

"Brown Boots" should probably be excised from the show, which is a little long as it stands. Hopefully it may be possible in the future to shorten it with "Get Me to the Church" or "With a Little Bit of Luck." In any case it's only a minor lull in what is otherwise a thoroughly engaging and amusing entertainment.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Let's Make Love (October 5-11), as intriguing an invitation as the Playhouse can be offering this year, is the title of the new Marilyn Monroe showcase. In CinemaScope and color, the Jerry Wald film is a silly hodgepodge which, despite some fine writing, is not bad. And after Gregory Peck walked off the set and Yves Montand had to be substituted in the male lead, Miss Monroe, nonetheless, is still the film's most appealing asset, and while her comic talents are not as much in evidence as they might be, her rendition early in the day of "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" will put you on her side for the rest of the evening.

Montand, a wealthy French playboy, hears that he is going to be serialized in an "Broads way comedies and drops out to a rehearsal to see what it's all about. Immediately smitten by Mrs. Miller, he conceals his identity and signs on to play a part in the show. For purposes of plot Montand is put forth as rather a talentless slob, although in real life he is France's top all-around entertainer, a member of the District Singers. This scriptwriter's fully makes his presence in the film little unnecessary since he's not given a chance to use his talents. And the some of the pros hired to teach him show business are entertaining in the kind of "comes" appearances that have destroyed the believability of better pictures than this one.

 greatable film adaptation, in color, of the William Inge play, featuring Dorothy McGuire, Eve Arden and Robert Preston, who also co-wrote the script. It was still trying to sell trombones to the people of River City and Meredith Wilson to the last balcony. In the "gratuitous-misery" style which was popular by summer, Williams' "Suddenly, Last Summer," the film includes two sexually disintegrated marriages, a young son who is afraid of the dark, a Jewish mother who is afraid of boys, a Jewish cadre who commits suicide after a brush with anti-Semitism and the philosophy that all the world's problems would disappear if married couples would make love more often. This is tripe and does not deserve your attention. It is tripe not because it is immoral—which it is—but because it is inferior soap opera. It is indifferently acted and Delbert Mann's direction is perceptive only in a few scenes, notably the last. There is no profundity here; only a tawdry attempt to give the appearance of profundity to an inane story about insignificant people by including a few clichés, such as an aversion about sex. And in its own self-proclaiming adult manner, the denouement is as childish as "The Romance of Helen Trent" ever was.

THE GARDEN

Lady Chatterley's Lover (October 3-8) is a shoddy little French production that rests on the reputation. If not the competence, of the D. H. Lawrence novel, Lawrence's book whatever your view of its literariness, is a frank and a franker and honest expression of the author's bedded in self-fulfillment through the senses. This is a bedily written and embarrassingly acted film. The story, however, resembles the novel only in plot. In case you've forgotten, that concerns a paralyzed and impotent English lord, his frustrated wife and a handsome gamekeeper who does what he can for the poor girl.

Even thrill-seekers won't find this much of a whiff; the censor-shit troubles the film had on its release in 1957 were concerned with a small moment of stench, rather than with any racy individual scenes. Danielle Darrieux is pretty in the pivotal role.

The Mouse That Roared (October 10-15) is an above-average presentation of as fine a satirical idea as the films have had in years. The satirist, is the Grand Duke of Luxembourg, principally so tiny it makes Monaco look like the Eurasian Peninsula, is in financial straits. What better way to obtain funds? It's easier to start a war and begin collecting foreign aid? Unfortunately, however, the rustic who has been put in charge of the 18-month and 100-man mobilization, using an air-raid drill, finds the place deserted and manages to steal the super-powerful, football-shaped Q-bomb, the United States' only weapon. Grand Duke Flick has won the war and misery hangs over the fairy tale country like a catatonic fog.

Peter Sellers, who doesn't want any advance for consideration, or to Guinevere to help, appears in this role as the bumbling farmer-general, the haughty but bawdy Queen and the smooth, oily prime minister. While he is entirely competent, Sellers fails to excite in us the kind of rapturous delight that others have attributed to him during his current vogue. This is a virtuous film, however, and "Mouse That Roared" is a scriptwriter's tour de force. Without question it is the year's best political satire (How many political satires have you seen this year?) and one of the funniest pictures. In color. Recommended.

Appearing with "The Mouse That Roared" is "The French and I," an intriguing if somewhat self-conscious French short, which won an Academy Award last year. There is no dialogue.

be glad to answer questions on fire prevention.

September rainfall of 8.11 inches was 1.11 inches above the normal figure of 3.61; high temperature for the month was 88 on the 1st, low was 44 on the 15th, but last Saturday, October 2, it chilled to a chill 37.

Three football fans at Saturday's Columbian game went to Princeton Hospital instead of Palmer Stadium because the Princeton singin' one was a boy who took a drink out of a pop bottle, only to find a yellow jacket had gotten there a little ahead of him among the other unusual items offered for sale in this week's classified section (pages 35-47) is the Kingston Post Office.

Topics Of The Town

Mr. Marvel pointed out that stray dogs were a serious problem on Township school grounds. He will take up the Jaycees' proposal with Borough Council next month. "I am one sure way to fill Township Hall," Mr. Marvel commented. "Just hold a public hearing on restraining dogs."

CANDIDATES SPEAK OUT
On Variety of Subjects. Cooperation between Borough and Township officials was the third developed by the Republicans and Democratic candidates in statements issued this week. Areas of such cooperation ranged from the library referendum to the construction of a new firehouse.

The GDR Borough candidates, Dr. Angus Austin and Dr. Ellwood Godfrey, declared themselves in favor of the library referendum, stating that "The question is a community issue, rather than a political one." They pointed out that the referendum "does not include plans or a commitment for a new library building, nor does it involve any stand on consolidation of the two municipalities."

"Planning is not a 'sometime thing,' but a necessary and continuing fact of Borough government," said Mr. Austin. "The threethird step is the development of greater cooperation between the Borough and Township Master Planning Boards. The second step is the toughest problem of consolidating planning with neighboring municipalities. The third step—and the most difficult," Mr. van de Velde emphasized, "is to make the plan stick no matter what immediate pressures arise."

Population Growth Cited. "The population explosion is a national reality," Mr. van de Velde commented, "and Princeton must escape the changes which inevitably accompany growth. In developing this point, Mr. Waldron stated, "We must make sure that we do not let the new people remain the masters, and do not succumb to easy solutions that put roads and automobiles before the human needs of the community."

"It is not enough," he went on, "to create and adopt a plan. We must continually resist expediency and short range goals. Whether we are home owners or renters, commuters, whether we are home owners or rent apartments, we must insist on adherence to one long range goal: the preservation of Princeton's charm and historical heritage."

Five Goals —Oliver, Republican candidate for Township Committee, Kenneth Fairman and Maurice F. Healy Jr., have set forth their platform, which pledges to continue the policies of the present Republican-led administration.

At the top of the list is "to cooperate fully with Borough officials to obtain as promptly as possible a commitment from the State Highway Department on the location and construction priority of Route 206-A, followed by "intensified efforts in conjunction with Borough officials to obtain from the Commonwealth a priority of plans for the construction of the southern portion of the proposed loop road."

The other three pledges cover the development of recreation facilities in Community Gardens, further strengthening of the Township administration to maintain efficient municipal services, and the continuation of the committee's efforts to bring desirable light industry into the Township to create a more favorable tax structure for property owners according to the committee's five of the seven points put forth during last year's successful campaign have been accomplished or are in the hands of appropriate agencies. Efforts are continuing to find a solution to the water problem, and the two men believe title to Community Gardens will be achieved by the end of the year.

HOFFMAN TO SPEAK

At 8 p.m. Wednesday, Dr. Paul C. Hoffman, director of the United Nations Special Fund, will be principal speaker at the Interfaith Community Festival Program Sunday, October 23, at the Princeton University Chapel.

The Festival, signifying the beginning of the United Nations Week observance in Princeton, will be followed by a reception on the University campus. Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. John H. Meyer, Mrs. Clifford Case, and former Senator H. Alexander Smith are expected to attend the Festival program which will begin at 3 p.m.

Earlier this week Governor Meyer issued a proclamation designating October 23 through 29 United Nations Week and October 24 as United Nations Day.

Borough and Township schools will give special attention to U.N. Week in social studies classes emphasizing the U.N.'s efforts toward world peace and international understanding. Princeton High School will present an assembly prepared by American Field Service students from Norway and Germany now enrolled at the school. American students

Smoking Ban Worth $16,700

Princeton University announced this week that it was placing an absolute ban on smoking in all lecture halls and classrooms. The ruling, defined as an economy measure, applies to undergraduates and faculty.

The move will save an estimated $16,700 a year, President Robert F. Goheen said. He reported that "meaning costs directly attributable to smoking" run $700 annually, while sanding and refinishing require another $9000.

The eight-to-ten man preceptory, an integral part of the University's educational system, are not affected by the ban, Dr. Goheen expressing the "hope that in these smaller units enforcement will be used." There was no indication this week as to exactly who would enforce the prohibition or what penalty would be invoked for violations.

who travelled to Europe under the AFS program will also participate in the assembly.

During U.N. Week, cafeteria menu in township schools will feature food specialties from a different country each day. Other activities and assemblies are also planned in local schools.

The United World Federalists of Princeton have made available a series of eight films dealing with the United Nations. Interested persons or groups may obtain all or one of the films by contacting Harlan W. Hosington Jr., 199 Longview Drive.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETS

On Severs, Brook, Water. "How many difficulties do we have to have before we get a 'public necessity?'" asked William Marsteller, township health representative on the Board of Health after the Township health officer reported to the Board of Health on Thursday night a second dead infant septic system in the Rosedale Road - Galbreath Drive area.

"A system less than a year old is not draining into potable water," said Dr. John M. Marsteller, Farley, health officer.

The Board then passed unanimously a motion restating its recommendation to Township Committee that the sewer line be continued between Galbreath Drive East along Rosedale to Galbreath Drive West.

The history of this area and the problem of septic overflow make this extension a matter of "Star," "Spring Garden," "Six-point Star" or "Crazy Quilt" pattern—price depending on the complexity of the pattern you choose. Prices start at $35.

All the pieces are made to order. Quality Denim, River, cotton, the filling is wool, nylon or cotton batting in any weight you name, and all the quilts are machine washable.

In these days of electric blankets, most housewives will prefer to use the quilts as spreads, rather than as blankets. The thickness is usually about a layer of batting just thick enough to give body. However, if you want a heavier covering for a child's bed, you may, or for a nap-robe, you may have any weight you wish.

From time to time, Mrs. Applegate will have some quilts in her shop for display. If you want one of those, you may buy it. Or you may place a special order, allowing three months for its completion.

Surrounding an attic trunk will be full of half-completed quilts with their patches joined but not backed or quilted. You may buy one of these. The ladies of the church in this same Kentucky town, will finish the quilt in anyway you specify.

Call Mrs. Applegate at WA 1-6657 for additional information.

RUGS AND FURNITURE

At Two Store New Furniture and Rug Center, 141 Main, displaying at the Rugs and Furniture Marts on State Road and of the Ivy Manor branch in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Items in the highway store include a lush-pile all wool carpet in plain or hand-carved style in 30 different designs, all on display for your choice; a new ceramic-armor nylon ($10.95 a square yard) shown at only 26 other stores in the country; a deep pile carpet, solid and tweed, $6.95; a carpet in the velvet manner, available in 12 ft. or 15 ft. broadloom widths in many colors at $10.95 a square yard and a budget ($9.95) textured wool carpet called "Noosau Hall".

The Furniture Mart in the same building is showing a solid cherry bedroom set for $399—chest-on-chest, double dresser, emannahall bed, night stand. And Western Cabin Collection—left, right, wing chair and three or four cushion sofa in foam and down, springs or all-down, with a wide choice of躺 (lounging) chairs. This is the Ivy Manor in the Shopping Center, also.

Sealy's Posturepedic mattress now comes in a tufted or quilted cover, $100.50 for the quilted, $75.50 for the plain. The Form rubber set in Posturepedic is $150 per unit. Construction as firm as can be.

Brilliant colors have been used in some new modern pieces. Turquoise and lime, deep and light violet, Kelly green and rose, peach, raspberry and peach with tailored overtones—cover curved sectional pieces, a straight two-cushion couch and a club chair.

Bright colors, without the intrusiveness of pattern, remain in the Kroehler line of Ivy Manor. Gold, myrtle blue-purple, flanne and "vape" with spindles, a wainscot framed highback chair, a couch, a sectional and a low back chair. All have been treated with Scotch guard spray to repel fingerprint and boot mud.

"Vape" that's the name of the line, also has dining and bedroom furniture featuring blocks of dark and light wood, laid, burl, ash, along with sets of door or drawers. (This furniture uses "cultured wood", which is wood that has been squeezed and pressed into a sweater-like texture and which the manufacturer thinks is a good idea. Resists warping and sticking. Kroehler uses it as core stock for doors, drawers and cabinet tops.) Budgeters will be interested in small-scale, small price furniture in modified Italian provincial style, with open framework frames on couch and chairs. A square lamp table is $27.50.

POLITICS IN THE AIR: The Women's Republican Club held a dessert-bridge at the home of Mrs. Roland T. Ely, 144 Constitution Drive. Shown are some of the women who participated for Township candidates; Mr. Ely; Mrs. Percy Clark, President of the Women's Republican Club; and Township Mayor Mr. Kenneth Fairman, running for a second term. Born of space-age developments, Rambler announces on all 1961 models a new Ceramic-Armored muffler and tail-pipe guaranteed against defects for the lifetime of the car while in the hands of the original owner. This covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. Every '61 Rambler muffler and tail-pipe is completely covered with a special ceramic coating—similar to that used in rockets and missiles—to give lasting protection against rust and corrosion caused by water, salt and acids. Another Rambler first!

12-MONTH, 12,000-MILE WARRANTY EXTENDED TO ALL NEW RAMBLER OWNERS

Now Rambler extends to all new Rambler owners its comprehensive full-year or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever occurs first. In fact, this liberal warranty, announced to dealers more than a year ago, also covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. It applies to all 1961 Rambler models and to 1960 Ramblers still within the warranty period. The normal industry warranty covers only 90 days or 4,000 miles.

Thoughts on the Canteen

To The Editor of Town Topics: It is hard to believe that people aware of school disciplinary problems would think that something magic happens to those same teen-agers when they come to the Canteen? Would they be more grown up? Would the Canteen Committee and Sponsoring Board to assure them that there will be no infraction of rules and no disciplinary problems?

Can't they see that people aware of school disciplinary problems would think that something magic happens to those same teen-agers when they come to the Canteen? Would they be more grown up? Would the Canteen Committee and Sponsoring Board to assure them that there will be no infraction of rules and no disciplinary problems?

It seems to me that most can't believe that the Canteen is what the Board of Education would expect of a school — that there be reasonable rules, and that those in charge make every attempt to make them known and enforced, and that they expect problems as you expect them at school.

It is unrealistic to think that high school boys and girls in their entirety will never take a drink and the least try to crash a dance when they do not belong. It seems to me that anyone attempting to fill a great teen-age空白 with a canteen will need a great miracle not to expect these incidents and be prepared to handle them in a calm, mature fashion.

It must be confusing to teenagers who live in a community where adults kick up their heels frequently and, on at least one occasion (reunion), the whole town turns out to enjoy watching the shenanigans. The canteen then must be great when some of these same adults are so shocked that on an average of once every two years they threaten closing the Canteen because of such things as finding an occasional liquor bottle.

Teen-agers must wonder what is really bothering these adults for they know all too well that without a Canteen there would be far more liquor bottles, etc. (though perhaps not in such obvious places).

One can't help wishing that the Board of Education would use more realistic and positive measures to improve the canteen and that the parents would likewise. I can recall when an average of 40 and 50 parents had to be called each and every week in order to get six couples to chaperone. I also can recall times when parents had to chaperone groups of liquor.

My plea is that we do our best to help teen-agers wait a few more years to copy their elders' behavior if they must. And, that we give them a canteen designed to make the High School Canteen meet the needs of Princeton teen-agers in the best possible fashion.

Pat CRISICITELLO
(Mrs. John Crisicitelto)
Mill Road, Princeton Junction.

Board's Decision Questioned.

To The Editor of Town Topics:...

I am releasing for publication the following letter to the Board of Education:

"The release to the newspapers on the determination of permission to hold a Teen Canteen at the Nassau Street School seemed unnecessarily cautious.

"I would like to see the Board of Education and the Community of Princeton more willing to use the public schools for the benefit of the children. There is little enough offered in this community for teenagers to have clean, good, simple fun.

"As a former member of the Adult Sponsor Board, I would like to say that parents, too, should give every support to these men and women who give untold hours and dedicated enthusiasm to make the Canteen work. The Teen Canteen officials and members work diligent to uphold the standards of the Canteen.

"The violations sighted in the newspaper would be serious if they were prevalent. Anyone knows that when you have a large group of people together someone may misbehave. Even in our excellent school system we have instances that the Board of Education and the Administration seek to enforce.

"Does the Board of Education consider that teenagers have parents at home, when teenagers have parties, there may be one or two young people who must be asked to leave because of misconduct.

"In my two years of working with the Canteen, I had continuing admiration for the willingness of the boys and girls to accept responsibility for their own conduct.

"Everyone regrets misbehavior by any member of the group. But what we do is to teach these young people the public support of the adults who help them, and a desire on the part of public authorities to work with and for them.

"We appreciate the sense of responsibility of the members of the Board of Education, but I sincerely hope they will give due consideration to the welfare of the children and their need for recreation. The entire group should not be punished because of the misbehavior of a few."

public necessity,” the Board stated.

In the past, there has been objection to the sewer system, the part of residents whose septic systems are functioning properly.

Mr. Farley also told the Board that a property owner on Hillside Avenue, an acre designated as “high priority” for sewer construction, sold his house without telling the buyer but that the water was not drinkable.

Mrs. Farley said that none of the houses on Hillside has a chlor-inator and that all house-holders on that street either boil their water or import it in cans from outside. She suggested that an expensive chlorinator or chlorinating system would be a preferable solution.

In addition, Mrs. Farley mentioned a landlord on lower Alexander Street who rented his house for $160 a month to three graduate students. Mrs. Farley, inspecting an open sewer hole, complained that an open sewer hole, open during the year, was causing overflow. She evicted the three tenants and declared the house unfit for human habitation.

Following her remarks, the Board decided to consider the possibility of requiring a Board of Health certificate before property could be sold or rented. Such a regulation will probably be considered as part of the Housing Code, when it is introduced at a later date.

Thanks to the Homemakers.

To The Editor of Town Topics:

Because "Good works" seldom get the recognition they deserve, I want to express publicly my appreciation to the Princeton Community Homemaker Service for the help I have been getting during my wife's illness.

In response to a telephone request, Mrs. Barbara S. Shimer, Director of the Homemaker Service, arranged for a homemaker to be at my home each day from 3 to 5 p.m. In this way my two children have been under adult supervision from the time they returned from school until my return from the office.

My homemaker has shown that she can "take over." She knows what things need doing, and she does them. She washes the dishes, makes the beds, laundry, and touches up the children's clothing. She even prepares supper for the family when I ask her to do so.

Although those who use the Homemaker Service pay the homemaker on an hourly basis (about $1.30 an hour), I think that it is important to remember that the administrative costs of the service are borne by the Princeton United Community Fund and by the Kiwanis Club of Princeton.

Kiwanis merits commendation for initiating the Homemaker Service and for its continuing interest in the program.

The current fund-raising effort of the United Fund deserves our greatest support. For the United Fund aids the Homemaker Service but 17 other agencies, as well. Our contributions make it possible for each of these agencies to do a vital job in the community throughout the year.

COCKTAIL PARTY SET
By Republican Club. The third annual cocktail party held by the Republican Club is scheduled for this Saturday at the Nassau Inn. All voters are invited to attend from 5 to 7.

Among the guests will be Bernard M. Landau and Mrs. Edward J. Toder, New Jersey Republican committee man and woman from New Jersey; Dr. Charles R. Erdman Jr., New Jersey Republican chairman; and Joseph M. Pierson, Mercer County chairman.

Candidates expected to be present include A. Jerome Moore, running for Congress; James B. Gleason and Peter J. deFazio, running for the Mercer County Board of Freeholders; and Frank C. Oblinger, running for Mercer County Clerk.

Albert A. Austin and Dr. Elwood Godfrey, Borough Council candidates, and R. Kenneth Fairman and Maurice F. Healy Jr., Township committee candidates, will attend. Mr. Pierson is seeking a second three-year term. Stuart Robson, unopposed candidate for Township tax assessor, will also be present.

FALL MEETING MNDAY

For Business Women's Club.
The first fall meeting of the Princeton Business Women's Club and Professional Women's Club will be held on Monday, October 14, at the YWCA. Mrs. Paula Potts, chairman of the membership committee, will preside.

Other members of the Membership Committee are Mrs. Marjorie S. Kerr, Mrs. Josephine Konover and Mrs. Polly B. Steele. The following new members will be formally installed: Miss Kathryn Helm, assistant to the director, Tennis Foundation; Miss Gertrude Webber, executive housekeeper for the Foundation; Mrs. Anna M. Schatzel of A. P. Brownman & Co.; Miss Marie J. McLaughlin and Mrs. Ann V. Schatzel, secretaries for RCA. Dessert will be served.

CRAFTS PROGRAM SET

At Valley Road School. Beginning Friday, a crafts program will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Valley Road School under the auspices of the Township Board of Recreation Commissioners. Open to Township boys and girls over 12 years old, the program will include instruction in linoleum block printing, jewelry making and advanced work in ceramics.

Mrs. E. E. Holstington will direct the program, as she did last year. Two sessions are planned for younger children, who are scheduled for Saturday mornings beginning this Saturday. The hours are 9 and 10:30. The basketball program for Township boys will begin after Thanksgiving.

HOLYoke RAISING FUNDS

Goal is $300,000. Alumnae of Mercer County Girls' College in Princeton and Trenton areas have begun their campaign for funds, with a national goal of $300,000. Scholarship funds are raised through open houses held every other year with the Radcliffe College alumnae group.

Chairman of the solicitation for alumnae funds is Mrs. Richard H. William, 497 Prospect Avenue. Her co-chairmen are Mrs. Nathaniel E. Hornerich, 416-B Prospect Avenue; Mrs. Harland Housington Jr., 199 Longview Drive; Mrs. Walter Kauffman 4 Newlin Road; Mrs. Donald Mackenzie, 26 Murray Place; Mrs. Henry G. Martin, 100 Dadds Lane; Miss Phyllis Riley, 344 Nassau Street; Mrs. William E. Stearns, 70 Cleveland Lane; Mrs. William McCallum, 51 New Road, Franklin Park; and Mrs. William J. McGucken, 918 Greenwood Avenue, Trenton.

FATERNITY TO MEET

Will Mark Founders' Day. The Mercer County Alumnae Club of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity will hold its founders' day luncheon on Saturday, October 19, at noon at the Princeton Inn. New members in the Princeton area are invited to attend. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Norman Stearns, 129 Broadmead by Monday.

Three alumnae groups in New Jersey will join the Mercer County club in celebrating the 30th year since the fraternity's fling. Speakers will be Mrs. Marvin Neely and Mrs. James Fligg, both of one particular party. Whoever wins the Presidential election, the Democrats will still have a large majority in the Senate. For the good of the country, we will need a substantial number of intelligent, responsible and modern-minded Republicans who will support the Democratic majority when they deserve it, and an effective minority when the occasion demands — and of course to take forceful leadership in implementing a Nixon program if the Vice-President becomes Senator Case, the type of Republican.

Good government in this country depends in no small measure on the strength of the minority party of the people, and when the Republican Party, as the present minority, is fortunate enough to have a man of Case's outstanding qualifications and experience in the Senate, the country should continue to enjoy the benefit of his services.

As a practicing lawyer for over twenty-five years and a former Assistant United States Attorney, he has faithfully performed his duties and has won the respect of all his clients. He is a man of tact, whether on his or on the opposing side of a legal matter.

His leadership of the Democratic Party in Mercer County has been truly remarkable. He has no hesitation in yielding to the will of the majority and for the common good of all.

Indeed, because I have pride in my party, I want it to select the best candidates to represent it, so that I can feel proud and satisfied in electing those candidates and so that those candidates would be acceptable to independent voters as well. I am completely satisfied that Thorn Lord is such a candidate.

"PLEASE HELP US!"

In Ambulance Drive. Contributions for the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad's Ambulance Drive were $1,000 last year, and Albert Toto, chairman, has issued an appeal to the community for money to support the Fund. "The expenses of running two ambulances and a rescue truck 24 hours a day are very great," Mr. Toto points out, "because it is essential to keep these vehicles in excellent condition at all times. Contributions may be sent to me in care of Mr. Toto, 15 Harris Road.

In English-Speaking Union. The first meeting of the English Speaking Union will be a tea honoring and welcoming scholars who have recently arrived from British Commonwealth nations.

The tea will be held Sunday from 4:30 to 6 in Wyman House, off Springdale Road on the Graduate College campus.

FIRST WOMAN TO RUN

For West Windsor Committee. The first woman to run for Township Committee in West Windsor has announced her candidacy. She is Mrs. John E. MacKenzie, 101 Village Road, East Dutch Neck, running on the Democratic ticket to fill the expired portion of the term vacated by Russell Morris, who has moved to West Windsor. Mrs. MacKenzie, mother of four and grandmother of four, has been active in the West Windsor P.T.A. and has served as president of the West Windsor Volunteer Fire Company No. 1 Auxiliary of which she is a charter member.

MUSIC In Princeton

SEASON TO OPEN MONDAY
Princeton University Concerts. Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra will open the 1960-61 Princeton University Concerts Series Monday at 8:30 p.m. with a program consisting of works by Eric Satie, Gustav Mahler, Richard Strauss and Lukas Foss. The concert is the first in Series I, which is sold out by subscription. For this opening concert, Mr. Ormandy will present his own transcription of Johann Christian Bach's Sinfonia for Double Orchestra in D, the Sicilus Fantasy and a Concerto for piano from Stravinsky's music for "Der Rosenkavalier", and a Concerto for Improvisation on Solo Instruments and Orchestra by the contemporary composer and pianist, Lukas Foss.

Other concerts in Series I will include Pierre Boulez, French cellist on November 7; the Cleveland Orchestra on February 6; the pianist John Browning on March 8 and Leopold Simoneau, French tenor, on April 12. Fifty standing room tickets will be sold at the box office after 7:30 p.m. on concert evenings.

Series II, for which some tickets are still available, will present Isaac Stern on October 24, the pianists Vera Appleton and Michael Field on November 21 (joined by two percussionists to perform the Bruckner sonata); and the chamber ensemble Kirkpatrick on January 9; Archibald Allison on January 23; and the Juilliard Quartet with violinist Walter Trampler for quintet music on March 20.

QUARTET TO PLAY

For Friends of Music, The Lenox Quartet, which has scored a quarter-century record for the Tanglewood and Princeton Seminars in contemporary music, will be heard Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in 10 McCosh Hall on the University campus in the first concert given by the Friends of Music at Princeton.

The quartet will play the Haydn Quartet in B Flat Major, Opus 64, No. 1; the Schubert String Quartet in F Major, Opus 16; the Brahms String Quartet in A Minor, Opus 29. This will be the first public performance in Princeton of the Schoenberg trio.

Howard Taubman of the New York Times, writing after the New York debut of the Lenox Quartet, said: "The quartet will be a force in the world of contemporary music."

Paul Henry Lang of the New York "World Tribune" said that the quartet "is a symbol of symmetry and completeness." Their Princeton appearance will be open to the public without charge.

Business in Princeton

two adult classes in painting and drawing. The courses will be held Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30, and Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m. Each class has six one-month sessions—$15, and his work is included in the permanent collections of many museums.

Miss Weber, who has studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, will give an art class for young people from 6 to 12 years old on Saturday mornings from 10 to noon. Her work has been exhibited in the Philadelphia Art Alliance, the Syracuse Print Club, the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts and the Modern Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York City.

Photography classes will be given by Sol Lissohn, whose work

Joint Library Urged

In a pamphlet issued by the Princeton Public Library, voters are urged to cast their ballots in favor of the joint referendum proposing a Borough-Township Library this November.

"In practice, the public library has been operated as a separate entity with equal service for all Borough and Township residents almost continuously since it was founded in 1909, and since 1953 the two municipalities have shared library operation costs," the statement issued by the trustees and advisory committee reads. "The joint library, which would result from a joint library include improvement of library services with planning for expansion, equal representation and equal taxation and reduced per tax dollar. William D. Purcell, superintendent of Township Schools, adds, "The expansion of library services and the two communities will aid the schools in teaching both the research and relaxation use of the library." Copies of the pamphlet are available at the library.

is currently on exhibit at Gallery 100. A course in outdoor and indoor camera technique will be held. Thursday mornings from 10 to 11, with an advanced course in camera and darkroom techniques to be given Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SOAR

Three Times National Average, During 1953 to 1960, U.S. Postal Department receipts have increased 50 percent. During the same seven-year period, Postmaster Charles F. Murray has revealed that revenue from the Princeton Post Office has spiraled by more than 40 percent.

The nation's mail volume, which is increasing faster than its population growth, reached an all-time high last year when an estimated 60 billion pieces of mail were processed. This increased volume — up 25 percent over 1953 — occurred while the postal employees for the same period increased only 10 percent.

By 1970, it is expected that the annual mail volume will be more than 90 billion pieces.

While postal employment in the nation's post offices has not risen proportionately with the increase in the volume of mail, there has been an increase in the number of city carriers since 1953. City delivery service has been started in 800 communities and hundreds of other routes already in operation have been expanded to serve approximately nine million more Americans. New delivery routes and an increase in the number of delivery points will be added to the 700,000 more business concerns, 31,000 additional letter carriers have been employed.

TRUE TEST AHEAD

Against Penn Saturday. Having rolled back an overconfident and over-rated Columbia team, 49-0, Princeton's football forces will invade Franklin Field in Philadelphia Saturday to see whether their non-journal ability will attain some degree of permanence. Game-time is 3:30, half an hour earlier than October kickoff in Palmer Stadium.

A game so deflated but nonetheless dangerous Pennsylvania team will provide the opposition. For the Quakers, the 1960 season hangs in the balance: having been upset by Cornell and Dartmouth, 15-0, and confronted by Princeton, the team they always want most to defeat, it will be difficult to pick up the pieces if they lose this one.

Under-one-time Princeton coach Jim Steigman, Penn is now operating out of the single-wing. Accordingly, Saturday's meeting between the two will be the only Ivy League battle of the season featuring two teams with this attack and the first since George Munger's Penn vs. Penn game eight years ago.

The Quakers appeared to be off to a good start in their conversion from Steve Sebo's split T to the single wing when they easily romped over Columbia, 45-24, but then ran into a real animal at Hanover. Biggest flip-off on their difficulties was the major problem they had on the attack: a mere 20 yards gained rushing and a big zero on the scoreboard. Captain George Koval, who threw eight touchdown passes as a quarterback last season when Princeton's football championship has been lost for a month with a severe knee sprain suffered in the loss to Dartmouth. This will create a manpower problem at the tailback slot, key position in the single wing.

THE HOLE WAS THERE: A good-sized gap in the Columbia line is evidence of Princeton's solid blocking in Saturday's 49-0 conquest of the New Yorkers. Tailback Jack Sullivan hurtles through tackle at 3:50 of second period for Tigers' third touchdown as Lion captain Bob McCool (50) moves vainly in to close the gap.

There's a problem at quarterback, too, where a former Columbia back, Hugh Scott, has been slow to take over on his blocking ability. A sophomore, Dick Moyer, has moved in ahead of him, and last week's whitewashing is proof that the conversion to a new offense is understandable taking time.

Quakers Will Be Eager. Because victory over Princeton is the biggest goal of the season for Penn's team and its backers, Saturday's set-to will be a major goal for the Red and Blue. If a second straight defeat in Princeton is foisted on the Quakers, it will virtually eliminate them from any chance of repeating as champions in a league that has no clear-cut favorite.

Porter Shoves in. Princeton's best back is Porter Shoves, a 1961 sophomore, understudy for Koval at tailback. He is definitely the Quakers' top runner; if his shoulder injury is better, his promise is great.

picked an all-day down the right sideline for an 83-yard punt return that saw superb Princeton blocking. Not a Columbia player was within ten yards of the Tiger safetyman after he had passed midfield.

Sure placekicks by sophomore Dave Gouldin made it 14-0 with no more than 10:41 of the game gone, and then a Tiger ran up the middle from 10 yards. Another Columbia error, a fumble that guard Jerry Norton recovered on the losers' 21, set up the third TD and a short pass into the end zone that invariably found its touch down when intercepted did just that when reserve quarterback Bill Laird picked one off at 8:41 of the second quarter.

WE Congratulate

JACK SULLIVAN
Princeton Tailback

One touchdown in the opening period is no insurmountable handicap but a second and better the latter. It's overcomes when Demetrius Sullivan ran 83 yards down the right sideline in Palmer Stadium Saturday. Princeton scored and stayed in lead for 11 minutes, but all but broke the game open right there.

It was the 165-lb. senior's second score of the season in the young season, and serves notice that a block or two is all he needs to become the Ivy League's top running back during the season. On more than one occasion in the 43-0 rout of the thoroughly surprised Lions, he waited a split second for his interference and then reversed his direction as the tacklers overran him.

Sullivan had the biggest day of his three year career on the varsity, and 11 carries to the gain 100 yards for a spectacular 11.2 average; on five pass attempts, he completed four; he contributed to the Tigers' fine 42-yard punt, and, in addition, scored a pair of touchdowns. Small wonder he was named to the All-East team for the week and to the Ivy League's Ivy League's Back of the Week.

Neither of the past two seasons has been a bright one for the Kent School alumnus as injury and illness have sidelined him with considerable frequency. Two years ago, a leg injury in the Penn game hobbed him during his sophomore year; last fall, he missed the first part of the season because of a recurrent virus.

Sullivan's ability extends to baseball, a sport he captained as a junior and is now starting varsity birth in as a sophomore centerfielder. The illness that plagued him most of last year kept him off the diamond and, again, but he hopes he'll be back as a senior.

In common with the other juniors and seniors on this year's squad, Jack remembers his first game at Princeton's 18-0 victory here last fall. As the starting fullback on Franklin Field Saturday, he'll be his team to lead the Princeton charge and give Princeton a better start in the Ivy League race than had seemed possible a brief two weeks ago.

Jack, the Tigers must be favored. If they can justify such optimism, October football around here should be a lot more appealing than seemed likely a couple of weeks ago.

THIS FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT
Team Impressive to 2nd Win.
Princeton's 165-lb. senior football team can win its next game...it will engage a visiting Leonardo High eleven from Middlefield at Hovey Field Friday at 3:15—it should possibly continue through its remaining four games undefeated.

Last season, the Little Tigers lost to Marion High and lost twice to win the 1959 W-V-M conference title with a 5-2-1 record. Both defeats came at the hands of larger schools outside Mercer County. This year, however, the school PHS does not meet this year. The second Blue and White setback, its first in 1959 after it had won its first two, was administered through Leonardo until—Friday's opponent. The stage is set again. Will history repeat itself?

Aside from two blocked punts, one of which led to its opponent's only score, PHS had things pretty much its own way in its home opener Friday when it defeated

Freehold, 20-4, before an appreciative high school crowd. Although PHS didn't score co-captain Russ Perone in action in the first time, raced 43 and 29 yards to set up two quick PHS touchdowns in the second quarter, Midway in the third period, the senior-junior team picked up another TD on the running of Gil Fisher and Bob Sader to win its lead over the game but ineffective Blue and gold eleven.

The Princeton team began inauspiciously enough. In the game's opening minutes, Willie Pace blocked Perone's attempted punt and teammate Parent Rose recovered the loose ball. Freehold got on the PHS 20. The scoring opportunity was aborted, however, with a back in motion penalty and a mix-up in the Freehold backfield on down fourth.

Dolls, Penna. Recovered. Unable to move, PHS was forced to punt for the third time early in the second period. Perone's boot was fumbled by Freehold on its own 43 and recovered by centerman Dan Price. On the second play from scrimmage, Perone went

Firestone "NYLON 500" WITH ALL-ACTION TREAD

Revolutionary Break-Through in Tire Manufacture Gives You Action-Traction in the Center of the Tread

- ★ puts up to 83% more working elements on the road at all times
- ★ assures safer stops and positive starts
- ★ provides an extra margin of safety at high speeds
- ★ sets new standards of protection against blowouts, punctures, skidding

★ INCREASES TIRE MILEAGE UP TO 36%

Here's how Firestone...for the FIRST TIME in tire history...puts traction in the center of the tread:

Revolutionary 3-piece mold

Firestone's revolutionary 3-piece mold is the secret of total-action-traction. Conventional 2-piece molds leave a "dead spot" in the center of the tread.

NEW ALL-ACTION TREAD

These drawings illustrate how the action areas extend to the full width of the tread, with no "dead spot" in the center of the tread...where action-traction is needed most. Some manufacturers even leave the center open...offering no traction at all in the center of the tread.

- PLUS... THESE OTHER FIRESTONE FEATURES
- 1 1/2, Safety-Fortified NYLON cord body
- Monofilament NYLON bead chafing
- 4-Ply Super-Safe Treadless inner liner
- Racetrack "Speedway-Weld" of tread to body
- Cord plies angled for maximum stability
- Firestone Rubber R-101 for a "Hush-Hush" ride

WE HAVE THESE REMARKABLE TIRES IN STOCK NOW...IN THE SIZE TO FIT YOUR CAR

Make it a point to come in and see these tires for yourself. Let us explain the advantages of the ALL-ACTION TREAD and what it means to you in safety and the economy of your tire dollars. These tires are to come. We'll buy every penny's worth of unused mileage in your present tires when you trade them for new 500's. We're sure you'll be pleasantly surprised at how little it costs to equip your car with Firestone 500 nylon tires with ALL-ACTION TREAD.

PIRATE BOOSTERS ALL Barbers Danny Pearl (left) and Mike Meyer plan the Pittsburgh Pirates to beat the Yanks in the World Series. They, both say, are the National League's best. Danny has the better pitching staff. Rudy Clemens, a confessed Yankee-hater since 1936, hopes the Pirates upend the Yanks for sentimental reasons, but says reality forces him to take the task that the Yankees have too much power at the plate and will win in six.

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will win the World Series and how many games do you think it will last?

Where asked: Around town.

Danny Pearl, 22 Wayne Avenue, Princeton Barber, Burner's Barber Shop: I think Pittsburgh will win in seven games and it will be the Pirate's pitching staff that will beat the Yanks. The Yankees are the more consistent players, but throw a good pitcher against them and you'll see how much they become. Look at Lary, for example, he's beaten them 11 out of 12 times. The Pirates from top to bottom are dangerous at the plate.

Rudy Clemens, Kennedy House, teacher at Lawrenceville School: I think the Yankees in six games, but I'm sentimental toward Pittsburgh and the Yanks for the way they debone when they lost four straight. The Yankees have too much power—Mantle, Maris and Skowron can catch hit the long ball. I've seen them play since 1936 but they always win, they are simply too tough in their own stadium. I'm a frustrated Senator fan, myself.

Mike Meyer, 27 Witherspoon Street Barber, Burner's Barber Shop: I think Law and Friend will upset the Yanks. The Yanks have a good team and good hitters, no question about that. But the Pirates, in my opinion, have the edge in players on top. They have some good hitters, too. If Law and Friend stand up, they should win two apiece and if Mizell comes through in relief, the Pirates should win. It will go over four, probably five or six, but I think it will go seven.

Larry Healy, 49 Alken Avenue proprietor, Burner's Barber Shop: I hope Pittsburgh does and I'd like to see them do it in four straight but I think the Series will go to Pittsburgh. They are a team and they have been fighting all season. They might get some stage fright early in the Series which could cost them a couple of games, but once they find out the Yanks aren't invincible, they'll go to work.

David Hansen, Palmer Square, film editor: I've been a Yankee fan all my life and I think the Yanks will win in six. They are used to the pressure of a World Series.

Mr. Hector Griswold, 291 Russell Road, housewife: I expect the Yankees to win in four games. The Yanks have a very good organization; it's well run and I just don't see them losing. I'm a Yankee fan from way back.

John Maier, Hart Avenue, Hopewell, carpenter: Yankees definitely in five games. Pittsburgh will win the third game and then it will be over. I don't think the Yanks have the better hitting, especially in the clutch. Pittsburgh has as much or more hustle than the Yankees, and they're probably a lot more anxious to win, but I still think the Yankees have too much for them.

Prince Venable, Highway 27, janitor, Pittsburgh, but it will take them all seven games to do it. I think the Pirates have the better hitters and an all-around better playing team than New York.

Rome Wiskichchen, 130 Longview Drive, representative for the Linguaphone Institute: The Yanks in four straight. They had to beat us so hard at the end of the season to get us in shape now and ready to go. And don't forget they have a great manager named Casey Stengel who is always an edge in World Series competition.

Reginald Prendergast, 12 Griggswood, second year at St. Paul's School: I hope Pittsburgh wins in as few games possible because I hate the Yankees. I think they're dirty players.

Walter Wells, 60 Clay Street, maintenance superintendent: I think Pittsburgh will win the first game and then they will have to take it in five. I feel the Pirates have the better pitching staff. The Yankees have been going pretty good, winning the last 12 games, but you don't know how long that will last. They've been up and down all season. Pittsburgh has been hitting with more consistency. The only way I figure it will go seven games is if Casey would retire and the Yanks would go all out to win it for him. I think the Yanks are a thing of the past. This is something that the fans in Pittsburgh wanted for a long time, we will be waiting for it to go seven.

E. Farley, 129 Villanova Drive, Lawrence Township, owner of welding shop: I want Pittsburgh to win but the Yankees are going to come out on top. I think they do it in four, but they always win. In weight, height and strength they're equal. What gives the Yanks that extra something when they're down and almost out is their heart. I think it's something. We need a change. I think the Series will go the full seven games.

Richard Asche, Patton Hall, University freshman: I've picked the Pirates for the last two years and this year I think they have the right combination of pitching, fielding and hitting. The only way the Yanks will make it close is through their experience in World Series play.

FISHER SCORES: Taliback Gil Fisher tallies the Little Tigers' third touchdown late in the third quarter from the one-foot line in Princeton High's 20-6 win over Freehold Friday in Harris Field. In two carries Fisher had advanced the pigskin from the 40 to the 14-yard line to spark the successful drive.

over tackle, cut to the left, and dashed down the sidelines before being pushed out of bounds on the one-foot line. Then Howard Gould had backed over for the tally and kicked the extra point to put PHS in front, 7-0.

Three plays later the Little Tigers scored again after defensive tackle Jack Bratton had fallen on Freehold's 40-yard line, enabling a run on its own 42. Perone lost a yard attempting to pass, but, on the next play, was off on a 25-yard romp down the field to the 14. Running like scared gazelle, sophomore Bob Saller covered the remaining 11 yards, circling left end, to score his first PHS touch down. Gould again added the PAT to put the score at 14-0.

Princeton High's final six-pointers were set up by Charles Pernot, who returned a Freehold punt to the Little Tiger's 40, and by running plays. Fisher advanced the ball to the 14. Saller then carried to the three from where Fisher, three plays later, went over for the 20th point. This time, Gould's extra point hit the goalpost.

Freehold, half beaten by Princeton, took nothing by itself, did it not to have its coach given the opportunity to score. A low pass from center on a punt attempt ended with the Blue and White in possession first and 10 on the Freehold 15. They did not have time and taking over on its own nine, The Blue and Gold moved 71 yards to the Little Tiger 20, where Allen Wood intercepted a pass to end the threat.

The losers finally scored late in the game when linebacker Lenny Clex broke through blocking and ran 40 yards, receiving the ball on the PHS 10. From the 10, Larry Brown, who had done most of the ground gaining for Freehold, scampered around end for the score. The PAT try was blocked.

HUN BLANKED IN OPENER
By Pennington School, Suffering

an unexpected and disappointing defeat in its opener last week, the Hun School football team will play its first of four home games Saturday, opposing Perkiomen at 2:30. Like Hun, Perkiomen was unable to cold its opening game, losing to Malvern, 41-0, which prompted Hun coach Hawley Waterman to remark: "They must be in our league."

Perkiomen, in its second consecutive year, a promising Hun eleven has been an opening-game victim of neighboring Pennington School. Coach Harold Poore's squad won its opener, however, last Saturday, 26-0, was anything but meager.

Saturday as II again demonstrated its mastery, scoring once in every period to defeat the visitors, 26-0. "I don't know how to say" was all that Waterman could muster following the game in which Hun failed to complete one pass in 11 attempts and managed to cross the midfield stripe only twice.

Hun received the opening kickoff, from the on-set, according to Waterman, "couldn't make its first play for fear just didn't advance the ball. Their line was outcharging ours. Both offense and defense," said Waterman.

Pennington, for its part, had the durability to mount an attack. At the end of five minutes, the Red Raiders had moved 72 yards in 11 plays to score their first six-pointer. The touchdown was set up by a 20-yard pass to Quarterback Dave Duthie to end Ron Crowe.

During the rest, Duthie didn't stop there. Of 21 passes he completed 15 for 167 yards. Two of them, a one-yarder to Crowe again and a 20-yard strike to Paul Deffman, resulted in TDs. Duthie also managed 10 yards for Pennington's third tally.

Hun never was able to get untracked as Pennington, its spirit never dimmed, even though, continued to encourage and out-hustle the discouraged visitors.

Hun never threatened. The losers were only able to garner three first downs in the entire contest. Its deepest penetration carried just to the Raider's 44, so completely was Hun outplayed.

Line Play Decisive. What had gone wrong? "The battle was decided on the line," Waterman said. "Our line was outcharged all day. We just stood up, or, when we did charge, we charged high. We didn't tackle all or even most-tackled. Many boys still don't know their blocking assignments."

The Hun coach's indictment continued: "Our pass defense was terrible. We just sat there and watched them jail on fumbles we should have gotten; our punting was

RIVALRY TO RESUME

Andover Invades Lawrenceville. One of the most interesting prep school football games of the 1960 season will be played Saturday at Lawrenceville when Andover takes the field against the Red and Black to renew an old rivalry. The kickoff is set for 2:30, and there is a $1.00 admission.

The two schools played first in 1894 and met seven times in all, Andover holding a 4-3 edge. The last contest was played in 1924.

Larries Unbeaten. Lawrenceville will place an unprecedented 15-game winning streak on the line, a streak that extends through two consecutive undefeated seasons and one undefeated history. Last Saturday, Coach Ken Keuffel's team walloped Blair Academy, 45-0.

Captain Frank Bunch, tailback, in Lawrenceville's single wing setup, was an All-State selection last fall, is the Red and Black's primary threat. He scored the first two touchdowns against Blair, the second on an 85-yard run.

Andover comes to Lawrenceville after having lost to the Northeastern freshmen, 28-8, and tied the Tufts freshmen, 0-0. The Royal Blue, unbeatens last season, has lost two of its 11 starts by graduation and a rebuilding job is in progress.

Coach Steve Sorota, who began the campaign with only four lettermen at hand, expects his team to show visible improvements as the season progresses. "Playful ability is there," he reports; "what we need is better cohesion and team play."

Ten players from the Mercer County area are on the two teams—nine at Lawrenceville (see picture). In the Andover backfield will be Charlie Stuart of Princeton, who two years ago earned Princeton's Coop. Day. When it achieved a 5-1 record for its best season in the school's history.

Unusual interest is being shown in the renewal of the Andover-Lawrenceville rivalry, with one of the last credits to see a pre-season contest expected to attend. Additionally, grandstands, on loan from Princeton University, will be erected for the occasion.

HENRY TOMLINSON WINS

Dinghy Race on Carnegie. Henry Tomlinson won Sunday's weekly dinghy regatta in the Penguin Class staged on the lake by the Carnegie Yacht Club. Tomlinson accumulated 495 points in the four races, finishing first in two of them.

John Bernard with 424 points and John Reeder with 36.6 points second and third, respectively. Following were Carl Olson, 35.6; Walt Jefferson, 34; Ted Kelly, 31.7; Tom Huntington, 25.1; Bevin Smith, 22; Ted Nicoll, 21; Walt Foster, 18; Jim Schureman, 17; Bob Wilson, 16; Art Keiser and Fred Hines, 14 each.

BOWLING NOTES

Three-Way Tie in "A" League. Nelson Glass, Shelton, No. 1 and K. of C. were all tied for first in the "A" League at the end of Princeton bowling action last week. Kase Cleaners, Farmers and Building Center, all with 14 points, were tied on one game ahead of the leaders. The Reformers (16) held first place in the Industrial League, but Para Lab Supply and Nassau Service climbed to 14 points each in the second spot.

In the "B" loop, Walker Gordon maintained his one-game margin over Edwards Engineering, 18. The Sportsmen No. 1 were third with 16 points and Prince Lauder had 14. Decker's Dairy (24) paced the Women's Industrial League, followed by Princeton Motor Lodge (22) and Nassau Service (20). Nassau Bootery topped the Women's loop with 18 points, while Cranbury Bank and Hitz and Misses were tied for second at 16.

The women posted two 200 scores and one near miss last week, all in the Women's Industrial League. Julian Burrough tallied 216 and Diane Hiltz 211 at 200. Dot Moore had a 199-175 in the same league, followed by Betty Kleiber, 168, and Peg Brown, 152. In the men's "A" League, Frank Cawley topped 203; Fred Goede, 201; and Bob Cawley, 200.

Question Of The Week

dent, Opinion Research Corp.—The Yankees in six games. Why? Just the factor of too much professional experience on the part of the Yankees.

Nicholas Perna, 149 Hodge Road, chauffeur-handymen: The Yanks in our straight. Everyone likes them, but they are not in. They have better hitters than the Pirates. I don't know why but the Yankees have given me a good feeling this year.

Mike Terry, 1901 Hall, University Inn: The Yankees will have to win together better all year as a team and have won consistently, whereas the Yanks have been erratic. They beat the clubs they have to beat and then they have to beat the clubs they are not supposed to beat. I also think Pittsburgh proved itself when Skinner and then Groat went out and the team didn't tail off. They showed they had good heart, strength. I used to live in Pittsburgh and I've seen them play about five games this year. The players have a tremendous esprit de corps.

Walter Uffelman, Millburn, insurance man: I favor Pittsburgh in six games. I think the Pirates have to win together better all year as a team and have won consistently, whereas the Yanks have been erratic. They beat the clubs they have to beat and then they have to beat the clubs they are not supposed to beat. ### BAPTISTS ARE DEMOCRATIC

This does not mean that all Baptists are members of the Democratic party but it does mean that Baptists believe every man must deal directly with God and is personally responsible to Him. Baptists therefore stand for the necessity of personal faith and decision and endeavor to stand by their convictions both in the church and in the communities in which they live.

If you want to gain such a faith and desire to be part of such a Christian fellowship attend the American Baptist Church in your community.

Shell We Dance? The "Ballroom" at Borough Hall served its original "purpose" on Saturday evening when nearly 300 youngsters held the first fall session of the teen center. The "dancing floor" must have been started by the tread and the tempo.

In recent years, these boards have grown used to the measured steps of the citizens approaching the "Ballroom" to view the busy counter of the violations bureau, or the magistrate's court room. As Borough Clerk Mooney and other staff members frequently attest, the visitors are not to be expected to dance about.

A Reappraisal: It seems likely that following discussions among interested groups, the canteen school may return to the Nassau School. The school board is anticipated to make certain adjustments that will enhance the effectiveness of the program.

Everyone seems agreed that the canteen serves a very useful pose and that it should continue, but the question is whether that renewed interest on the part of all concerned with this community activity will lead to a fine year of canteen fun for Princeton's high school age youth.

A Saturday Date: One of the indispensable parts of the canteen is a supply of chapelines. You can't go wrong with Beethoven or Brahms, but if you are young in heart and want to be hep to the latest teen-age musical fancies, the mayor suggests that you visit the "Pride in Princeton" at the canteen. At Borough Hall last Saturday night, it seemed to this music "critic" that the 1969 record favorite was "Smile" and that it was more memorable for us oldtimers than the frenzied beat so noticeable at the mayor's last chap eroning venture.

The Bell Will Ring: That French paragraph in last week's report may have been a typesetter's nightmare—and for that, profound apologies—but the invitation thus disguised for French-speaking Princeton families to open their doors to visiting UN delegates and their families brought an amazing response. There is no doubt that Princeton will be able to serve effectively as a host community for a gathering with the United Nations.

Surely this will be an important contribution to much-needed understanding among the peoples of the world. Particularly, we want to make welcome families from those many new free nations of Africa who will be weighing America's democracy with every new contact that they have with us.

Tell It To The Mayor: The regular weekly open forum session will be held at Borough Hall on Thursday, October 6, and Thursday, October 13, from 7 to 10 p.m. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

One visitor brought an undated copy of the mayor's report which noted that "in many ways, Princeton continues to be a showplace town." There was a copy of the view from inside that citizen's window: a neighbor's showcase, thoughtlessly strewn with refuse cans, unsightly debris, and other detritus that many of us should be grateful to find for a new clean-up week effort. In fact, as was suggested, "Pride in Princeton" is a year-round job, requiring the attention of each of us in countless ways.

QUIET MEETING HELD

By Lawrence Planning Board. In sharp contrast to the stormy sessions that have characterized recent meetings, the Lawrence Township Planning Board sat in quiet last Wednesday night and considered its controversial Master Plan, among other things.

A plan for the Old Orchards subdivision on Flacker Road and Lawrenceville Road, submitted by Raymond D. Bowers, was set aside by the Board for further study. Mr. Bowers proposes a development called "cluster housing" which would require a zoning change.

In a cluster plan, a development is bisected by a long straight road. Semi-circular "jug-handle" roads link into it at regular intervals, and houses are built on the "handles." The half circle of land between curving handle and straight main road is landscaped and used for parking. The land behind the houses is used for recreation purposes for the entire development.

There are no cluster developments in this area. Mr. Bowers proposed a plan for four or five clusters, or 35 houses, in a conventional development. Houses would be in the $10,000-and-up price range.

News Of The CHURCHES

PARKER TO BE HONORED

For 30 Years' Service. A special service and banquet honoring the Rev. Dr. William T. Parker of First Baptist Church will be held on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 12 and 13, to celebrate his 30th anniversary as the pastor of the church.

The two-day celebration will begin at 11 a.m. Sunday with a sermon by the Rev. J. Norman Martin, Director of the Baptist Convention of New Jersey, at Princeton. In the afternoon, the Rev. E. F. Webb, pastor of Monumental Baptist Church, Jersey City, will preach the anniversary sermon, which is scheduled to speak at 3:30 p.m.

The closing message of the day will be given at 7 p.m. by the Rev. O. D. McGowen. On Monday at 8 p.m., members of the church and friends of Dr. Parker will gather at the church for a traditional banquet.

Grandson of a slave and son of a former bond slave, Rev. Dr. Parker decided at the age of eight that he would become an educated man, and saving everything he managed to earn, he entered the first grade at the age of 20, in 1921, in his pocket.

Dr. Parker holds a degree from Georgia State College, a Master of Arts from Colgate University and a Doctor of Divinity from Virginia Theological Seminary and College.

CHURCH SCHOOL PLANNED

On Seminary Campus, Church school teachers and officers of the Protestant churches of Princeton will participate in the annual School of Christian Life and Leadership scheduled for October 13 through November 10 on the Princeton Theological Seminary campus. Classes of general interest to laymen will be offered, as well as specific courses for nursery, primary, junior-high and adult groups.

From George D. Kelsey of Drew University, a noted Baptist leader, will speak on the topic, "Christian Responsibility in Society." Other results will concentrate on the problems of civil rights and on the religious issue in the current presidential campaign. Princeton residents, the faculty, including Mrs. Mary E. Dietrich, Dr. Charles T. Frisch and Dr. Howard T. Kuist.

Registrations for the school are being accepted by The Rev. Harold F. Park, Registrar, Princeton Seminary Educational Building, 100 Stockton Street.

LECTURES OFFERED

By Jewish Center. A series of lectures on "Innovation and Tradition in Jewish History and Culture" will be presented this month by the Princeton Jewish Center to its members and to anyone in the community who wishes to participate.

Rabbi Irving M. Levey, chaplain to Jewish students at Princeton, will explore "The Legacy of Talmudic Judaism to the Modern World" in the opening lecture, to be given next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Center.

On Tuesday, October 18 at 8 p.m., Dr. Paul Tillet of Rutgers, authority on American constitutional history, will speak on "Justice Brandeis and His Impact Upon the Supreme Court." Dr. Julius Cohen of the Rutgers University Law School will lecture on "Contributions to the Philosophy of Law" by Judge Jerome Frank, Felix S. Cohen and Morris R. Cohen.

Registration will be held next Tuesday from 7:30 to 8 p.m. at the Center. The series (fee is $3) will also be a study in conversational Hebrew for beginners (limited enrollment) given by Mrs. Dina Sharon-Shadron on Thursdays from 8 to 9:30 p.m. starting October 21. Some basic knowledge of Hebrew is required. Registration for this course (fee $8) will be next Tuesday from 7 to 8 p.m. and on October 20 from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Community Presbyterian Church of the Stand Hills will celebrate its first anniversary this weekend. Starting in October, 1955, with 115 charter members, the church now has 231 members, 250 children in church school and 40 church school teachers.

The first meeting of the Princeton United Community Fund will be held next Tuesday, at 9:45 a.m. at the church. Mrs. Darrell Johnson, Field Work Consultant for the Family Service Association of America will speak on "The Evaluation of Social Services in Princeton."

The Fall Frolic of the Women's Group of the Kendall Park Jewish Community Center will be held on October 18 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Michael Shapiro. It will be a costume dance, to be held at the Center.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE WEEK:

As our youngest says, "Hear this!" — 5 bedrooms (or 4 and den), 2½ baths, large, pretty living-dining room with fireplace, charming grounds with deck, 2½ acres. Large deck overlooking a running brook — sound like a lot of house? It is, and there's more: good construction, marvelous storage closets, workroom, aluminum storm and screen doors, and far, pleasant location close to town, and just enough decorating needed to be fun for a feminine buyer! $35,000.

FURNISHED RENTAL:
Appealing old house in Western Section, 3 b.r., 2 baths, large sunroom, many antiques. 4½ b.r., 2 baths. Pretty brick terrace. Available Nov. 1. $300.
